Art Unit: 2877

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 42, 51, and 52 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 42 appears identical in scope to claims 12. Claims 51 and 52 are apparatus claims dependent from method claim 49. In claim 52, "faceplate" has no clear antecedent basis. It appears that the dependency of each of these claims is not what was intended; it appears that claim 42 was intended to be dependent from claim 28, not claim 1, and that claims 51 and 52 were intended to be dependent from claim 50.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-49 and 51-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Neumann (US 4,824,248) and Larsen et al (US 4,277,177).

Both references shows optical testing arrangements in which a purge gas is injected into a space between the sample and the measuring instrument. In both the geometry of the arrangement ensures that the injected gas is exhausted at the periphery of the bounded volume formed by the sample and the optical instrument. Both references present the purpose of the introduction of the gas is to improve the optical measurement. Larson in particular shows a transparent optical element (26,36) which serves the purpose of isolating the system optics from the bounded volume between the sample and the measuring head. Both present the measuring head arrangement as being useful with a wide range of optical measurements; see Larsen et al, column 1, lines 12-13, and Neumann, column 1, lines 21-24. It would have been obvious to choose appropriate light sources, detectors, and materials for such system to suit the particular measurement at hand. Neumann et al mentions that such a system is usable in microdensitometry (abstract, line 80, which at least clearly suggest making the arrangement small.

5. The art does not appear to teach or suggest the particular details of claim 50. See the remarks concerning claim 50 in the paper filed 9 January 2004, page 14, second full paragraph. Thus claim 50 is allowable.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
